The award has been made possible by the generosity of Past Collegians who have contributed to a Jubilee Scholarship fund. The Jubilee Scholarship will be offered annually from the income derived from the fund.

In 1964 Andrew began as an intern at the Royal Adelaide Hospital and subsequently engaged in graduate studies in England where he was admitted as a Fellow in the Faculty of Anaesthetics in the Royal College of Surgeons.

After returning to Australia he took up a post at the Royal Adelaide Hospital. He was appointed as a Member of the Lincoln College Council in 1973, served as Secretary of the Council in 1976 and became Chairman of Council in 1978, a position from which he retired in 1985. In 1986 he was made a Life Member of Lincoln College.

His association with the College as student, and subsequent involvement in the government of the College, his spirit of participation and continued interest and involvement in the life of the College is honoured in the establishment of this Scholarship.

In 2009 Andrew Smith endowed a Scholarship at Lincoln College. The Council agreed to name this scholarship the Jane Smith Scholarship in recognition of the contribution of Andrew's wife Jane to Lincoln College. ## Section E – The Colombo Spirit Scholarship

In April 2009, the family of Alumnus Datuk Dr Sam Abraham provided a seeding endowment for what has become The Colombo Spirit Scholarship. Lincoln Alumnus Sam Abraham was a recipient of a Colombo exchange from Malaysia and this scholarship has been created to reflect his enduring spirit and legacy, as well as the spirit of the Colombo venture: knowledge, skills, friendship, cultural exchange, and people to people relationships.

The Colombo Plan was crucial to the growth of Australian tertiary education in the international market. Lincoln College has long benefited from the short term and long term effects of the Colombo Plan and the scholars who travelled here to earn their degrees via the scheme. The College has had Colombo Plan recipients in residence from several of the Colombo plan countries, but mostly from Malaysia. Their spirit imbues the spirit of Lincoln College.

"Though not often acknowledged, the Colombo Plan students and particularly those from Malaysia (who were the single biggest group) played a major part in the reshaping of Australia, its culture, its values and its people. Many of those students were active not only in their universities as student leaders but worked across the spectrum of employment in their vacations, lived with Australian families and spent countless hours speaking at service club meetings. Their contribution to Australia, whilst unmeasured, was as enormous as it is valuable...in the case of Malaysia and Australia, the Colombo Plan was the foundation for an enduring understanding based on people to people relationships."

p 13, 1951-2001: The Colombo Plan; Geoff Sauer (Ed.)
